Business Admin Update

As I write this on Monday morning, the rain is coming down, and it sounds like we will have a few days of this. The Earl Grey tea I am drinking is warm to the body and comforting. I reflect back on this past weekend and smiles and comfort come to me. I also recall the hectic moments that made the weekend fly by – it's Monday already.

On Friday evening Pam and Adrian Panther hosted the marriage prep sponsor couples of our ACC. We enjoyed each other's company, shared a meal, discussed our experiences in working with engaged couples, and learned from each other. What a great evening of time together. The rest of the weekend was pretty full, as I am guessing many of us may have experienced. There was yard cleanup, some garden harvesting, putting the pontoon in storage, cooking supper, cleaning the house, and many of the normal chores as we get ready for what is to come. Maybe it is the firearm's deer season, shopping at the craft fairs, cookie baking (Christmas is next month), winter, or planning Thanksgiving with the extended family. Busy, busy, busy, rushing here and there, preparing.

But back to that moment of reflection while calm and comforted. Scenes from the weekend also include: the dogs sleeping on the floor or snuggled up with me on the couch, reading the final chapters of a good book by lamp light of a dark night, trumpeter swans flying low overhead, a walk with the pups under sunshine with a light breeze while neighbors gathered piles of leaves, a phone call with the kids sharing enjoyable moments of the past week and opportunities that lie ahead this week, phone calls with parents or siblings, and a warm meal together on a Sunday evening. Thank you, God, for such moments, such wonderful blessings.

Before November ends we will have completed another liturgical year and started a new one. As we prepare for what lies ahead, may we take the time to reflect on the gifts that God has blessed us with. From a parish standpoint, I recall blessings of increasing Mass attendance, friendly smiles from our friends, neighbors, and our parish family. I recall celebrations where we worked together sharing our time and talents and ate together. I recall the blessings of having adult conversations where we discussed challenges we faced together. There are times when we know that we were/are praying together and for one another. There was the first day of school this fall which brought many smiles, nervous energy, and tears for the parents of kindergartners. When I stop to reflect, there are WAY more blessings than I could possibly fit on this page, but by pausing to reflect, I grow closer to God and am so thankful for all that He has blessed me and this community. I challenge all of you to take some real time to stop and reflect on the blessings you have experienced over the past 12 months. With that abundance, now how does God want us to move forward? What is He asking of us for the coming liturgical year? How does he want us to be His hands and feet to the world? How does he want us to be prudent stewards of our time, talent, and treasure?

Well, my tea is about gone, but my cup of gratitude (and rain gauge) is full. Thank you, God, for the rain, the nourishment for this earth. May you and your families have a blessed Thanksgiving season!

With gratefulness,
Todd Wentworth

NOVEMBER IS NATIVE AMERICAN HERITAGE MONTH
Minnesota is home to approximately 163,000 Native Americans. There are seven Anishinaabe (Ojibwe/Chipewa) tribes in northern and eastern Minnesota, and four Dakota (Sioux) communities in southern Minnesota.

"May the sun bring you new energy by day,
May the moon softly restore you by night,
May the rain wash away your worries,
May the breeze blow new strength into your being,
May you walk gently through the world and Know its beauty all the days of your life."
